

GoldenEye Hotel & Resort: The former home of author Ian Fleming has about two dozen suites and cottages.

Island Outpost

SuperFun Beach Resort

The SuperFun Beach Resort: The pool at SuperFun, a resort geared to the party crowd, boasts multiple diversions.

Jamaica

- ▶ There's lots going on in this popular getaway. The new 32-acre, two-berth Historic Falmouth Cruise Port opens near Ocho Rios. First ship due to call: Navigator of the Seas on Jan. 7. The port is a $220 million project by Royal Caribbean Limited in partnership with the Port Authority of Jamaica. Walking tours of the 240-year-old town will be offered. 800-526-2422; visitjamaica.com
- ▶ SuperFun Beach Resort & Spa in Runaway Bay, formerly erotically charged Hedonism III, offers the 18-and-older crowd a budget-friendly party resort. Packages covering all meals, multiple dining options, unlimited booze, activities and taxes, start as low as $114 a person daily via specials. 877-467-8737; superfunresort.com
- ▶ James Bond creator Ian Fleming's former home, GoldenEye, reopened on Jamaica's north coast as a larger hotel after an expansion. GoldenEye Hotel & Resort has about two dozen accommodations with state-of-the-art Logitech Squeezebox sound systems. But of course: Owner is Chris Blackwell of Island Records fame. Introductory rates start at about $670 in winter, including breakfast. 800-688-7678; goldeneye.com

Caribbean islands add new pizzazz

Baby, it has been cold outside — all the way to Florida. Chilly weather sends sun seekers scurrying to book beach vacations. And after a non-stellar 2009, Caribbean islands hoping for a resurgence are luring visitors with new lodgings, services and

Antigua

Caribbean Airlines (formerly BWIA) launched non-stop service from JFK this week. It has flights to other islands, offers discounts for kids and seniors and allows free checked bags. Information: 800-920-4225; caribbean-airlines.com

Aruba

Air service is expanding, with new flights on JetBlue from Boston; on Delta from LaGuardia; on AirTran from Atlanta and Orlando.

Barbados

The Fairmont Royal Pavilion is fresh from a major upgrade. Doubles start at about $600 in high season. Kids under